I have had the fortune to be a part of several teams in both my professional and personal life, but only when I had a chance to be a part of a team building process did I finally understand the meaning of having a team where each member contributes their knowledge, personality and skills for the benefit of the whole. Here are some key factors that, in my opinion, make for a great team: ¢Ã Scroll down to continue reading article ¢Ã ¢Ã Scroll down to continue reading article ¢Ã 1. Make sure your team members are smarter than you. One of the most important things I realized while being a member of a team is that when I have the opportunity to build my own team, I will always reach out to people who I think are smarter than me. I always believed that in order to be the best. I need to learn from those who are better than me and make them my partners¢ÃÂmy team. By surrounding yourselves with people who are less familiar with, you will ensure that your team will always move forward to achieve their goals. Even more importantly, it will allow the members of the teamà Ato learn from one another, improve their own skills and become better, and this is something every team needs. 2. Everyone should be a leader. I¢ÃÂÂm a great believer in decentralization of responsibilities. I used to think that hierarchy was a vital part of creating an organization, but I was wrong. Hierarchy, especially in the best, because every team member was free to bring their thoughts and skills to the table, allowing the team to win and succeed. Be sure to hire only those who would be interested in the â € ught responsibilities and be ready to let them lead. Brainstorming is a very way of setting goals, road maps and having a discussion about just about anything. someone who is not honest, and honesty begins with the express your real opinion all the time. A man yes is someone who always agrees with you, and the last thing that a team needs is from someone who is always saying, "Yes". When one of your team members is always agreeing with what you say, it means that they are smarter than you They are confirming something you thought) or less intelligent than you, and to build a totally functional team, you need someone who will think differently and show differently and show different ways to achieve your goals. They are not always the best players who win, but the best teams, and it is the work of the Wooler to make the team work in an ideal one. We need to ensure that our teams are involved, that they have a clear understanding of the goals and, of course, that the tools to do the job. But this is just the starting point. Excess teams do not happen only by chance that need to be molded, trained, and tapped to achieve greatness. We need to seek the sum of the whole, to be greater than the sum of the parts, and we can do it through a great teamwork. Here are TRANSE INGREDIENTS that can help increase teamwork. Here are TRANSE increase teamwork. together. 88% of millennials say the preference of working in collaboration in collaboration in collaboration than competitively. Therefore, we should look for people working together, and not individually, where it is contributing to a shared goal and shared success, which will increase morals and motivation. Having natives competing with each other creates winners and losers, and no one wants to be a loser. The collaboration is the basis for all major teams and positively affect other other. As a breadcrumbs, we should seek to build collaboration model, as this will help build a culture of collaboration. £ o. When people are working on their own goals, we leave them very little to cooperate and help others. We need to ensure that we hit the equilibrium, because our goal is that every company must fight for capture is a very way of improving performance, but needs to be done the right way. We do not want to define individuals or teams competing against themselves, against the performance of the last years or the benchmarks established by other companies. It is the way we can all take in the same direction, and if we do it, correctly, it will also help increase collaboration and company branches aligned around the same qoals.
